Let's Begin With Summer '79

Three months and an extra day, that was how long the students of King High had to escape from the nine months of daily school routine. Summer vacation was what they called it.

Padre Island attracted many Kingsville residents from their homes to its open sandy beaches. Until, it became sequestered because of the sudden vast oil spill from the Campeche Bay of Mexico that accumulated on the beach.

Residents also attended the annual World Championship Pinto Bean Cook Off held at the Kleberg park. Some of the activities held were the big pinto bean cook off, the crowning of a new Miss Pinto Bean, a jalapeno eating contest, a carnival and other inviting events.

As gas prices skyrocketed throughout the country, vacations were canceled. Because of an energy shortage, President Carter requested that everyone raise their thermostats to 78 degrees. As a result, people turned to local activities instead, such as going to movies, going swimming to nearby pools and beaches, cruising around town, and driving through favorite hangouts, or maybe wrapping houses just to kill time. Others kept busy by taking summer jobs that were available to them.

Winding Through Formality

On the days of August 23 and 24, school reopened to start registering students for the fall. The registration was held in the cafeteria, where in the past few years, was held in the auditorium. The orientations from the counselors and principals, that were also always presented to familiarize the students with the school policy, were eliminated to shorten the length of time for the enrollment.

On the first day, many incoming freshmen enrolled with a confused and awed look on their faces. They formed a line and went from table to table receiving bus cards, lunch tickets, their first I.D. cards, and other necessary information. The returning students, who were now sophomores, followed the same routine later in the day. The juniors and seniors, with an uninterested expressions on their faces, registered the following day. They had these expressions because they knew that summer vacation was over and it was time to hit the books again.

...And The Day Begins

The sight of the long car traffic lines along Brahma Boulevard implied the opening of a new school year. The school back parking lot was once again occupied by the students cars. In addition, the 15 MPH speed limit of the school driveway was emphasized.

Early that morning, some students took time to view and to stroll around the campus while they waited for the bell. Other groups of students conversed with friends in the hallways, while the rest waited to register in the office or talked with their counselors about schedule changes.

For the returning King High students, it was the usual routine for their day to begin with the excitement of meeting new friends as well as their old ones, and new teachers. As for the freshmen class and few new other students, the day was totally confusing. Then there was the long lunch lines with the familiar menu, and for some, the beginning for homework.

The lockers also became a big issue throughout the day.

The administrative staff, counselors, and office staff were extremely busy. Without their help in aiding the student body, the whole day would have been more hectic than it already was.

Seven Weeks of Dim Light and Sweat

From September 27 to November 18 of the 1979-80 year, the teachers, administrators, and students at King High "suffered" from the heat, knats, dimness of light, and the contagious irritability that was common to everyone during this time. The situation was caused by a fire in the electrical panels and left the school running on a limited source of power.

The heat at this time of the year didn't help much, with temperatures

ranging between 80 and 100 degrees; but teachers did attempt to give themselves and their classes some relief by conducting classes outside. Whether inside or outside, however, the knats could not be ignored as students swatted and swore and swatted at them in hope that they would go away.

In the middle of October one of the previously mentioned problems was solved when electricity was restored and the lights came on. Having the lights on made it easier to see what was going on, but due to the fact that part of the airconditioning unit was being renovated, cool air did not enter the building through the air vents until November. On November 15 a temporary lose of power was experienced; but power was restored once again and the school resumed as normal on Monday, November 18, ending the seven weeks of dimlight and sweat at King High.

Spirit Peaks During Homecoming

Homecoming was marked by a number of changes this year. Voting for Homecoming Queen was done before school, during lunch, and after school. Students voted in the snack bar area. Each organization as well as the senior class nominated a queen candidate.

The five finalist were announced on the front page of the school newspaper. The five finalist were: Annie Alvarado, Pam Hees, Shenae Lewis, Esmeralda Ramirez and Dana Wilson. Pam Hees was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies Nov. 2.

When it was announced that the fire marshall would not issue a permit for the annual bon-fire because of disruptions at the previous year's bon-fire, Student Cabinet came up with a solution to the problem. A twenty-foot "B" was constructed by the metal trades class, wrapped with combustable material by members of the senior class, and was burned in place of the bon-fire.

Many contests were held during the busy week. The car decorating contest was won by Peter Torres; the bill board contest by DECA; the hall decorating by the seniors and the spirit chain contest by the juniors. The float contest was won by the Art Club.

Members of the 1929 Brahma football team participated in the Homecoming Parade, and were honored during the pep rally and game Friday night.

A dance followed the Homecoming Game at the Golden Palace. "Blue Harmony" provided the entertainment. A poll conducted by the Student Cabinet determined that the student body felt Homecoming was a great success.

Practice Meet Held Here

It was Saturday, November 17th. It was H. M. King's 2nd Forensics tournament and 1st Journalism and Math one. The tournament was a success even though there was no electricity for about two hours. Twelve schools showed up for the practice meet. In speech, Tuloso Midway took 1st place sweepstakes. Carroll swept the journalism events, while Edinburg won in slide rule and number sense competition. Thanks to King High, surrounding schools had a chance to practice for U.I.L. competition.

Pic 1: Cathy Gorakhpurwalla pauses before returning to work with the tournament.
Pic 2: Judges for the journalism, part of the tournament, looks over submitted work.
Pic 3: Tournament director, Joe Goode and Scott Davidson, prepare for the day's events.

The 1979 year for pep rallies was marked by a number of changes. The most effecting one was the change of location. Because of the power failure experienced here, the location of the pep rally was changed temporarily from the auditorium to the gym. New chants, a new class yell, and new cheers were introduced by the cheerleaders. They were helped out by the pep squad, the kings ladies, and the Mighty Brahma Band. The band, featuring the new drum corps, helped spread spirit by wearing foam hands. With the cheerleaders, the pep squad, the Kings Ladies, the band and the whole student body joining in, the Mighty Brahmas were urged on to victories.

"Smart Assets" Selected As Annual Play

On December 6th, 7th, and 8th, students from the H.M. King Drama Department put on stage the three act play "Smart Assets," written by Eddie Cope. The cast, coached and directed by Miss Janie Castaneda, consisted of Lisa Lutz as Monique, Tommy Geyman as Bubba, Chauny Flores as Marye, Brad Malone as the Doctor, Sherry Schonefield as Miss Dee, Terry Garcia as Marth' Ann, Sheila Bouquet as Billy Joe, Michael Elizondo as Colonel Hones, Elsa Alcala as June Rawlings, Ismael Rodriguez as the Trooper, Dodson Skipworth as Hobe Hobart, and Paul Palmer as Harry Allen.

The students contributed many hours of practice and, as a result, performed a successful production.

Students at H.M. King High participated in the celebration of Christmas. OEA sponsored a party for children. The cafeteria ladies wore spirited costumes. Others participated in a variety of traditions from Christmas caroling to performing in a nativity scene. But the real celebrating didn't begin until December 21st when students were released for vacation.

District 10 President Holds Convention

Besides having been the District 10 Student Council President and holding the Spring Convention at H.M. King, the Student Council undertook many other projects. For these it was named Outstanding Student Council and took second in the Safety Project.

With the help of the Leadership class, the bulletin boards and marquees were maintained, the Spring Carnival organized, a Chamber of Commerce work survey done, an Alcohol Awareness Week planned, and an Anti-Vandalism campaign run.

The 1979 Homecoming Queen, Miss KHS, Student Cabinet and Class Officer Elections were conducted by Student Cabinet and Senate members. This included voter education, with voter registration, candidate forums and a mock election.

During Homecoming, the Council built the "Burning B" and hosted the returned Class of 1929 District Champ football players.

The Council helped with the fund drive for March of Dimes including education through films and literature. It also helped to raise over $3,000, in less than a month for the Care for Kingsville campaign. This money went to help pay for the new County Hospital.

Student Council was behind the scenes in almost every aspect of school activities and projects for King High.

Great effort and hard work was displayed by all Student Cabinet and Student Senate members throughout the entire year.

The Safety Council also played an active role in Council in helping with a bicycle rodeo, the energy conservation week, and ticketing illegally parked cars. It also had a representative attend the National Safety Council Convention in Flagstaff, Arizona.

To Promote Leadership, Scholarship,

Sponsoring the 1979-1980 NHS organization was Mrs. Judy Wood claiming her fifth year. Aiding her in managing the society were David Gonzalez, president; Kendra Sumney, vice president; Denise Hogan, secretary; and Jorja Lay, treasurer. Sponsoring the NJHS Club was Mrs. Tina Allen presiding over the organization for the first time.

Kendra Sumney was Homecoming duchess and representative for NHS at the annual Homecoming parade. Debra Breeding represented the NJHS as Homecoming duchess.

Pending the Christmas season, the members from the organizations sponsored two underprivileged children and contributed two gifts for them.

On March 11, 1980, 66 new freshmen, and 10 sophomores, were inducted bringing the total membership of NJHS to 118. After the NJHS inductees were initiated, 38 juniors and 1 senior, were received as new members of NHS.

Library Assistants Unite

Library assistants from as far back as 1965 have united to form the Library Club. Their main goal each year has been to go to a library convention where they have heard talks in library techniques and book reviews. The club was formed to help fellow library assistants get to know each other and discuss their common interests in library work. The club hoped to promote interest in reading and in the library.

"Anyone with an interest in art" could join the Art Club according to Mrs. Newton, club advisor. The main purpose of the club was to encourage interest in art and to promote art in the school.

This year's activities included an ice-sculpture demonstration, a field trip to the Christmas Tree Forest in Corpus Christi, and a Folk Art Festival where students were given the opportunity to create works of art during their advisory periods.

In past years the Art Club had raised money to offer art scholarships to graduating seniors; and once again, the Art Club's main goal this year was to offer another scholarship.

Forensics Take

In an outstanding display of talent and determination, the H.M. King High chapter of the National Forensic League qualified eight people for state speech competition held in Austin. Those that traveled to the meet held in February were: Paul Palmer in Debate and Humorous, Scott Davidson in Debate, Joe Goode in Extemporaneous speaking, and Carmen Cavazos in Extemporaneous speaking and Oratory.

Other qualifiers competing in Extemporaneous speaking were Brad Malone and Sheila Bouquet. Qualifying in Dramatic was Shannon Ware.

Throughout the year, Coach Janie Castaneda led the team on to many sweepstake victories at tournaments held all over the state of Texas, some, with as many as sixty schools participating.

"Even though the squad was young, comprised mostly of freshman, they learned fast and by the time competition came around, they were ready to contribute to make a winning team," commented Castaneda, three year coach of the Forensic League.

Miss Castaneda also directed the One-Act play, "The Shadowbox," written by Michael Christofer. The story is centered around three separate families trying to cope with the upcoming death of a loved one. The play won first place at District competition, where Senior Becky Brewer was named 'Best Actress' and many other individual acting awards were given out to the cast.

Members of the league were: Paul Palmer, Joe Goode, Shannon Ware, Sheila Bouquet, Kathy Falinsky, Ritu Malik, James Arnold, Vicki McCauley, Amy Baldillez,

Pep Squad Participation Adds to Spirit

The H.M. King High Pep Squad participated in a wide variety of activities this year. The girls performed dance routines at the pep rallies, and formed victory lines at the football games. They expressed their support by attending all the games. During Homecoming week, the squad represented their duchess, Alicia Martinez, in the parade. The girls raised money at the games by selling programs. Sponsors: Mrs. Mebane and Mr. Torres.

French Club Sets High Goals

This year the French Club was dedicated to bettering themselves and the community. Members of the club were able to receive pen pals from locations over Europe, and became eligible for the $100 scholarship given away to the most outstanding senior in the club. The award was presented at their banquet later in the year.

A student-faculty volleyball game held in the old gym which was the club's method of raising money for its projects and helping the students enjoy themselves.

Club president, Anne Kirch, hoped that in the years to come, the club would be able to raise enough money to travel to the "la bella" province of Quebec in Canada or New Orleans, home of the Mardi Gras.

In keeping with their traditions, the Spanish Club, a member of the Pan American Student Forum, sold carnations. Red signified love with white signifying friendship. A total of 800 carnations were ordered at a $1.50 each. They also sold raffle tickets and held bake sales. Their trip to the state convention in San Antonio was financed with the money. Rachel Munoz was a candidate for state office, a very high honor. This was the first time in H.M. King history that a student has run for office. The state convention was held on March 13 through 14.

Journalism Society Raises Money

Quill & Scroll was hard at work trying to better their newspaper and keep up their qualities in the yearbook. The society also held a booth at the Spring Carnival in April. On May 6, they had their annual banquet. The theme of the banquet was "Go Hawaiian." The annual gag gifts were presented to fellow staff members, followed by a slide show reviewing all of the past year's events.

The Quill & Scroll inducted 7 new members to keep them going next year. The requirements to be inducted were: must be outstanding in Journalism, in the top 1/3 of the class, and either a Junior or Senior. The inductees were: Donna Drago, Ramon San Luis, Keith Holmes, Laurie Brewer, Kim Taylor, Betsy Cogdill, and Mark Sanders.

Pic 1: Robert San Luis lights the candle of judgement and friendship as Joe Goode, president, tells those present of the characteristics that are required of a Quill and Scroll member. Members set a goal during their first meeting to take an active part in both publications, elect officers, and participate in other school activities. Senior Jeanne Porter was selected by the club to represent them as a Homecoming Queen nominee.

Pic 3: Newly installed member Kim Taylor and veteran member Mary Grace Esberto take time to collect their thoughts before embarking on the long trip to Austin. The first Math and Science Club was established during the 1979-1980 school year by a few concerned students. Elected as President was Kerry Leithead. They began by raising money chopping wood which in turn entitled them to participate in fieldtrips and school sponsored activities. Their fieldtrips took them from the Port Aransas Wildlife Refuge to the Gladys Porter Zoo. Their sponsors were Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Mebane, and Mr. "O."

Allied Youth, a community service organization, had many goals during the year. Money was raised to send members to S.W.A.Y. and a scholarship fund. One of the many money making projects was a bake sale in December.

During Homecoming the 100-125 members voted Dana Wilson to be their duchess.

Officers for the 1979-1980 year were Stacey Wilds, president; Karen Gilliam, vice-president; Randa Williamson, treasurer; and Kurt Elias, reporter.

The officers wanted to thank everyone that helped during the year. They were quoted as stating, "It has been a good year."

The Future Homemakers of America Club was an organization designed to give students various responsibilities and the chance to help other people.

For the 1979-1980 year, the FHA Club carried out plans to commemorate the International Year of the Child as well as assisting the elderly. The organization sponsored its first annual FHA disco dance. Roger Reyna was chosen as FHA sweetheart.

The 1979-80 year was an action packed one for the Kingsville FFA Chapter. In September, Greenhand Orientation and District Land Judging Contest were the activities.

The club's money making project-the Annual Fruit Sale and Sausage Sale, was conducted in December.

Throughout January the club stayed busy. A field trip to the San Antonio Stockshow and Rodeo highlighted the month. Members participated in District Livestock Judging and placed first. Kevin Smith resigned as President and Sara Boyd was elected to replace him.

The District FFA Banquet and Sweetheart Contest was held in February with Pam Hees elected as the Chapter's Sweetheart. The Houston Stock Show Judging Contest was attended.

In March came the Kleberg County Junior Livestock Show, with the following FFA'er placing: Grand Champion Swine-Lewis Cannon; Grand Champion Farm Shop Project-Earl Faske; Reserve Champion Broilers-Jody Watkins; Reserve Champion Rabbits-Craig Becker; Third Runner up in Queen Contest-Shelly Stewart.

FFA'ers participated in April in the Area Livestock Judging Contest at Texas A&I and the District Convention in Alice. Two members also applied for the Lone Star Farmer Degree.

The Area 10 Convention was held at Texas A&I in May, as was the Annual Parent-Member Awards

The Brahmas finished another winning season under head coach, Tom Walker. After the pre-season polls picked the varsity bulls to finish 1st, many thought that it was a mediocre season. But overall, it was a good effort.

After the first game, it appeared that the Brahmas were on their way to a district championship when they shut out Laredo-Martin, 43-0.

The team traveled to Port Lavaca for the next game. There, the bulls pulled out a tight 13-9 win over the Sandcrabs. During that game, it became apparent that the Kingsville offense was not executing. Penalties and turnovers plagued the bulls throughout the game.

The Brahmas ended pre-season with a perfect mark, as they edged Sam Houston(S.A.) by a score of 7-6.

District contest opened against the Miller Bucs. Again, the Brahmas squeaked by to win, 10-6.

The next week the Brahmas went up against their first tough opponent the King Mustangs. The Brahma offense continued to stumble, and the excellent defense could not handle the Mustangs. They handed the bulls its first defeat to the score of 6-41.

Defeat also came to the hands of the Brahmas by Alice. The eventual state semi-finalist beat the varsity squad 0-25.

Things seemed to be turning around after coach Walker revamped the offense. The Brahmas beat the Ray Texans, 27-7.

Homecoming week saw the Brahmas beat Robstown 21-14.

Carroll was next for the bulls. The Brahmas were impressive against the Tigers and dominated more than what the 18-7 score indicates as Maurice Addison rushed for 219 yards.

The Brahmas lost the season finale by a score of 40-14.

The bulls finished third in the district and led in total defense.

Making the All-District team was Bobby Trevino, a defensive lineman, for the Brahmas.

Flame Dies Down

After beginning the season with three straight wins, the Junior Varsity football team dropped six games in a row before winning their last game to finish a 4-5 season.

The first three wins were against Laredo Martin, Port Lavaca, and Laredo Nixon. The last win was against the Moody Trojans.

A hot rivalry may have started when the Brahma Junior Varsity played the Brahma Sophomore team in a hard fought game which ended in a close 6-0 victory for the Sophomores.

The team had good individual efforts on offense by the running backs, Gabe Guerrero who averaged 73 yards per game and Rudy Trevino who averaged 60 yards per game. Guerrero was also the leading J.V. scorer. On the defensive squad Librado Maldonado and Curtis Lawson were the leaders, with 86 and 52 tackles respectively for the year. Also on the team was the exchange student from Finland, Juha Pinomaa.

Sophomores Stride For "Lucky Seven"

The Sophomore Football Team put in a lot of hard work for the season. All the training and hours of working out finally paid off as they pulled off seven wins out of ten games. With the help of Phil Esquivel, Darwin Sparck, and the rest of the Sophomore team, they won the 27 AAAA Championship.

The Sophomore squad dealt their first loss to Laredo-Martin in their first season game by a close 12-13 margin. This was only one of three losses.

In the game against Alice, the team scored 27 points against a no-scoring opposer. The following week, they improved their score by one to defeat Ray 28-0.

The season ended with a 45-0 victory over Moody.

From September 13 to November 9, the freshmen Black and Gold football teams succeeded in holding a well worked season with Gold holding three victories, and Black leading by two games with a total of five wins.

The accomplishments of Ronnie Colin, who played defense for the Gold, Raul Vela, QB, Mark Dreyer, who played offense helped the team tremendously. Chris Woodard played skillfully, running 500 yds. for the Black team.

Coach Tom Walker was a good leader and was liked among the players. Coach Jaimes was quoted as saying, "I really enjoy working with the players, and I think we had a great season."

Cross Country Goes To State

They followed that up with a first place finish at the Regional IV meet in San Marcos and a seventh place at the State Meet held in Georgetown. The squad also had five other first place finishes. They were at the Carroll, Gregory-Portland, Robstown, Beeville and Corpus Christi meets. Kelly's Heroes also had a second place finish here and third place finishes at McAllen and Falfurrias.

Randy Loera was the top runner for the Brahmas until the State Meet where bad health led to a bad finish for Loera.

Loera finished ninth in Regional with a time of 9:50. This was the Brahma's best time for the year.

Taking top running honors for the Brahmas at State was Ralph Campos, who finished 42nd. Coach Frank Kelly, very pleased with the team's accomplishments, said that the Brahmas have got their foot in the door and that he plans to go back to State next year with the team.

The Junior Varsity Cross Country team enjoyed a very successful season by taking five 1st places and one 2nd place in seven meets. Sebastian Perez and Rolando Lopez ranked consistently among the top runners on the two-mile courses as the Brahma J.V. took first places at Gregory-Portland, Beeville, Kingsville, Corpus Christi and for the fourth time in a row, District. The second place finish was at Robstown. They also had a 5th place finish at McAllen.

Coach Kelly and the managers were instrumental in making their accomplishments possible.

Five Qualify For State

Balance, ability and poise were a must to be a good gymnast. A lot of hours were put in by the hard workers who later competed at the Regional, State UIL and State meets, in which the events were provided by the USGF program. From the number of gymnasts the school consist, nine made it for regionals. Out of the nine girls, two made it for State UIL, who were Lauri Whittington and Cheri Winberry. State UIL competitors had to make up their own routine which was a tough job to do. Three advanced for the state wide meet, and they were Terry Garcia, Zaida Garcia and Stephanie Wilson.

The gymnastic team had two money raising projects, a sticker sale and a tumble-a-thon. The money earned will be spent for some new warm-up suits.

At the end of the year, Coach Tom Lewis announced his resignation as director of the gymnastic team. He will be directing the junior high and high school gymnastics team at Brian, Texas next fall.

During the 1979-80 season, the Varsity Basketball team was blessed with the many talents of Thomas "Dolly" Gummings. With an average of 22.4 points per game, Gummings led District 27-4A in scoring.

Coming into District play, the Brahmas record stood at 6-8. The Bulls opened District opener came against Miller. The Bucs edged by the Brahmas, 48-51.

After a loss to King, the Bulls defeated Alice, 72-51, in a game they hoped to spark off a good season. The spark faded quickly as the Brahmas fell to defeat the rest of the half. They ended the half with a 1-6 record.

The Brahmas started the second half of District play on the right foot with a 68-63 victory over Miller.

In their games against King, Ray and Alice, Kingsville seemed to lose their touch.

The Brahmas' fighting spirit came back against Robstown. Gummings scored 30 points for the Bulls and led them to a 54-43 victory.

Kingsville ran into Carroll next. The Tigers, who were District champs, edged by the Brahmas 63-68 for the win.

The Brahmas ended the second half as they began it: with a victory. The Bulls squeaked by Moody, 56-57.

Their second half record was 3-4, while their district record stood at 4-10.

Led by Coach Armando Gonzalez the Junior Varsity Brahma Basketball Team improved vastly this year, with the help of star Player, Thor Dekker, a transfer student.

"I had a good feeling about this year's team. It's was an enthusiastic group...the best J.V. since I came here.", commented Gonzalez.

Two outstanding wins this year were both against Port Lavaca, the strongest team in the district. The first win was 90-80, and the second, 80-70.

During mid-season, Ricky Rodriguez and Robert Leary were moved up to varsity, leaving the team without any rebounders. In a way, this was an advantage, revealing to the team exactly where their weaknesses were.

As the season progressed, they began to win more games.

"As we got to know each other's moves, we played better together", said Lucando Watson.

Freshmen Dazzle

Throughout the 1979-80 basketball season, the Freshmen Black and Gold Teams shone through for King High with a display of talent and dedication. Although neither team recieved coverage like that given to the J.V. and Varsity teams, the incentive to win and play good ball was still there.

In the first half of district play, the Gold team narrowly defeated the Black team by a score of 43-50. But in the season's second half, the tables turned and the Black slipped by the Gold 39-35.

Three freshmen player were awarded for their outstanding playing ability by being named to the J.V. team for the following year. These players were Tony Gonzales, Freddy Soliz and Alex Colin.

Team Shows Room For Improvement

For the girls Varsity Basketball Team, the 1979-80 season was filled with the pain of a poor season plus the outstanding accomplishments of several individual players.

The Lady Brahmas ended the season with 4 wins and 24 losses. Although their record was not very impressive, Coach Rosalinda Perez was very, very pleased with their overall season. Looking back on last years' season, Coach Perez said the attitude of the players had changed. The girls had gained much more self-discipline and it definately showed on the court.

Through the clouds of defeat, the achievements of one Lady Brahma shined through. Grace Villarreal, the teams' high scorer, recieved All-District Honorable Mention for the district team. She also recieved an All Tournament trophy at the Matis tourey and was selected Most Dedicated Lady Brahma by her teammated. Grace was also team captain along with Debbie Diaz. JV Takes Third In District

In the 1979 season, the Junior Varsity Basketball team saw a tremendous change over last year's season. The girls tied for third in district with a 9-5 record.

The team opened the season with a rash of victories. In their first game, they beat Miller, 47-33. They went on to defeat King 32-20, and then Alice, 46-30. Their first half record was 5-2, with two losses to Carroll and Ray.

The second half of play started like the first, with a win over Miller, 59-38. In their next game, the Lady Brahmas fell to King in a close 34-36 game. The team came back against Robstown, winning 39-30.

Kay Cox, Noelia Morales, and Dina Flores were the most consistent players throughout the season. Maria Arevalo and Denae Fulbright were the high scorers.

The Freshmen Girls Basketball team worked hard and put in many long hours of practice in the 1979 season.

Despite their tremendous efforts, on and off the court, the girls ended the season with a 0-7 record.

Their games against Bishop, Orange Grove, and their first game against Alice were all very close.

Although the disappointment was great, the season gave added experience to all the players.

Diving Is A Splash

The H.M. King High diving team exhibited many skills such as top form and bravery, in entering the cool, clear water of the new pool from the heights of a diving board. Although they now possessed the home base advantage, the student competitors did not need this edge to win. Both male and female team members captivated their audiences, including judges during competition with their graceful, acrobatic-like movements, thus proving that H.M. King students always come out on top.

H₂O Polo's Fun

Besides swimming and diving, the new King High pool was used to help establish a tradition. It was the 79-80 year that witnessed the birth of the Water Polo Team. Their agility and speed in the water made the H.m. king Water Polo Team notorious for "competative spirit." With vigorous movements in the pool water, the students served to capture and delight the spectators' attention. In other words, boring was not part of the water polo curriculum.

Let's Get Swinging

They began with anticipation and nervousness, and until that last shot had been completed, they never quit relaxed.

Since it was only the second year for a girls' team, the twelve players were still learning and improving on their game. Their scores dropped as the year progressed.

Having no long knockers on the team but always consistent with their scores, the twenty-two players on the boys' team practiced each an average of 45 hours a week. The boys placed 3rd at a tournament held here and at Edinberg; 4th at Corpus Christi ISD, Sinton, and the Corpus Christi Fall Classic. Altogether they participated in eight UIL tournaments held in places such as: San Antonio, McAllen, Corpus Christi, and the valley.

Coach Simpson was known to say, "I have quit worrying about my team. I know that four out of the five of my boys will come in with descent scores."

The boys' team was extremely proud of a five-man score of 304. This was the lowest score shot by the school team ever.

The JV team won a tournament held by Bishop High School. JV teams from King, Carroll, and a few 3A schools participated. The teams went to regions and then to district, but they did not play very well at either one.

Tennis Triumphs

The only word that could have summed up the 1979-1980 Varsity and Junior Varsity Tennis Teams was "outstanding." Through the talents and efforts of the individual athletes, the team pulled together to create one of the most successful teams in their district.

The year started off slow with only a few tournaments to pay off the seemingly endless workouts in the mornings. But when the tournaments finally did come along, the practices and workouts were worthwhile. As a team, H.M. King entered 5 tournaments. They won 1st place in the Kerrville Spectacular Tennis meet in the Varsity division and 2nd in the J.V. division. In the Brownsville Team Meet, they placed 5th out of 16 teams. In H.M. King's own Invitational Meet, they placed 2nd in the Varsity division and 3rd in the J.V. division with 8 schools competing.

At District competition, H.M. King placed 7 people in the semi-finals in the Varsity and J.V. divisions. Muna Sahtout and Lori Bogener placed in Varsity girls doubles as well as Debbie Thomas and Sue Shirtcliff. Billy Hicks placed in Varsity boy's singles. In J.V., Bern De La Cruz placed in the boy's division, and Janie Russell in the girl's division. Muna and Lori won the finals while Debbie and Sue won 3rd place. Hicks won 3rd place also.

Muna Sahtout and Lori Bogener ended their high school career as 2-time girls' district doubles champs, advancing to the quarter-finals the last 2 years of regionals before losing. They won the Kerrville and Victoria meets, took 2nd place in the Corpus UIL and Kingsville meets and 4th place in the Houston Spring Branch meet. They were defeated only 8 times during the year and won over 40 matches in tournament competition.

Following up on their first place win in Cross Country, the Brahma Varsity Track Team finished the year with a first place in Spring track. In giving King High their first major district championship ever in 4A competition, the Brahmas sent twelve individuals to the Regional meet. Qualifiers for the Regional meet were: Ralph Brown, Billy Hill, and Bernard Bailey in the sprint relay, James Jefferson in the sprint and mile relays, Mike DePuydt in the mile relay, Jimmy Newton in the mile relay and 400 meter dash, Howard Sanchez in the 800 meter run, Ralph Campos in the 1600 meter run, Carl Simpson in the intermediate hurdles, Kirk Nix and Andy Ortegon in the pole vault, and Maurice Addison whose outstanding performance qualified him for Regionals in four events.

Another standout in track was John Sanchez, a freshman who ran varsity track and who had apparently qualified for Regionals with a second place at District in the 1600 but was later controversially disqualified. Three school records were broken or tied by Brahma runners in the mile relay which placed fourth at Regionals and the sprint relay and by Addison in the 200 meter dash. Coach Frank Kelly was named South Texas Track Coach of the Year for his accomplishments with the Brahmas.

Girls Post Record Breaking Season

The Spring Track team left their mark on the 1980 season with several people breaking school records. The mile relay team of Susie Rodriguez, Beth Harms, Ella Alvarado and Sofie De La Cerda broke the old record set in '73 with a time of 4:31. Dini Mirelez, Dianna Gooch, Ella Alvarado and Nori Soliz, the 880 relay team, broke the old record set in '74 with a time of 1:54.

Sofie De La Cerda ran the 880 in 2:31 breaking the old record set in '75. Ann Winder ran the mile in 5:31 breaking the old record set in '76.

At the two day District meet, the Varsity team finished in 5th place despite the unusually cold weather. The J.V. team came in 4th at the meet.

New Varsity baseball coach, Jesse Saurez, led the Brahmas to a 20win 11 loss season. The Brahmas' district record of 8 wins and 6 losses was not good enough to land them in the playoffs. However, the Brahmas did defeat both the first and second half champions at least once. Roy Galvan was the Brahmas standout player. Roy was named to the 27-4A all district team. He led the district in the most hits, the most RBI's, and the most homeruns. Roy had 42 hits 35 RBI's and 8 homeruns.

Roldan Galvan was another Brahma standout player. He made 2nd team all-district and led the district in doubles. Other Brahma players named to 2nd all-district team were: Orlando Gonzales, Roger Reyna and Donny Lopez. Honorable Mention Players were James and Bruce Roberts. The Brahms team named Orlando Gonzales Best Pitcher, James Roberts Best Fielder and Roy Galvan as Best Hitter and Most Valuable Player. The Brahma team captains were: Roy Galvan, Roger Reyna and Josh Whittington. Departing seniors were: Roy Galvan, Roldan Galvan, Roger Reyna, Lupe Chapa, Jimmy Collier, Henry Chapa and Josh Whittington.

Baseball season here at H.M. King started in early spring. The boys got in shape by lifting weights, running some mileage, and learning different ways of throwing, catching, and hitting a ball. The coaches then selected the teams and began practicing day after day in the field.

Coach Doug Walker's J.V. team finished the season with a 11-6 record. Their first game was against the Miller Bucs in which they conquered with a 16-4 score. The team showed good playing and sportsmanship in the Corpus Christi tournament in which they won 11-1 and 7-6.

Class of '83 Creates Freshmen Like No Other

The union of eighth graders both from Memorial and Gillett Middle Schools created a freshmen class like no other. Together they shared the experiences of the first of year of high school.

Freshmen shared the new environment of a larger building. Most of them were lost during the first couple of weeks because of the new and sometimes confusing system of room numbers. They also found out that within this large building were people, people and more people. In fact, there were approximately 2000 of them.

Freshmen participated in their first high school pep rallies. Totally different from middle school pep rallies, they were introduced to new cheers and spirit contests. But this didn't stop the freshmen! Even without a president, the freshmen got together and rallied for their first spirit stick. Later in the season, they won other spirit sticks and even a spirit plaque.

The freshmen's first year was only beginning in high school. The hope of learning new things was shared by all the freshmen, as well as the hope of becoming an upper classmen.

Pic 1: "Couldn't they make 'em higher!" exclaims James Swafford as he tries to get his books out of his locker. Many freshmen have a hard time reaching the top lockers.

Pic 2: Jimmy Gutierrez helps Ben Williams organize the the freshmen mugshots in the yearbook workroom.

Leaders!

Early in the summer, before the school year began, the junior class began their money raising projects. They held bake sales at the Kingsville Mall, a car wash at the Mall parking lot, and they also set up a food booth at the Pinto Bean Cook-Off.

When school began, they started selling face towels, with the words "Wipe 'Em Up Bull" printed on them, to the student body.

For the first three and a half months, Joey Cisneros, class president, guided the juniors to show their spirit throughout the school, especially during the pep rallies. The class won the spirit plaque at least twice, and the spirit stick once. During Homecoming, the juniors took first place in quite a few of the other contest held. For the Homecoming hall decorating contest, the juniors chose "The Junior Ghost Town" as their theme. The juniors who participated in putting it up enjoyed themselves while decorating, and were very pleased with the results.

At one point after the second six weeks of school, it was thought that Cisneros would be released from his position and a new vice president was to be nominated at a called meeting. This meeting was never called as Joey was reinstated by the school board before the Christmas holidays.

Meetings were held after the first quarter to plan for the junior-senior prom. Committees were formed for the different jobs needed to be done. The class had fun putting the prom together. After the prom was over, the class was proud of the job well done.

As the year came to a close, many of the juniors were looking forward to their "Senior" year.

Going In Style

The class of 80 has always been known for their leadership and craziness. They out-yelled the underclassmen at the sizzling pep rallies though they were the smallest class present.

The seniors also won many spirit contests during Homecoming including "Senior Street", theme for the hall decorating contest. They hosted a talent show to raise money for a mural to be painted in the cafeteria, and several benches that will be located in the front of the school. The completion of these projects will allow the class of 80 to go in style after four years of leadership in student government and loyalty to H.M. King High School.

New Facilities Open

After a span of two years, the new facilities were finally completed for use by King High students. As the 1979-1980 year began, there was some confusion experienced by students trying to find rooms located in the new wings. But eventually, the students got their bearings straight and found their classes. Then came the long awaited moment, the actual usage of the now available facilities and the new materials they housed.

The students eagerly began the task of learning.

Only memories of crowded rooms and age-old materials remained in the wake of the newly completed facilities. Faculty members, as well as the students, were eager to begin usage of the now completed construction of the new educational institutions. These institutions included a new gym, a new NJROTC room, and a new Journalism wing. The new gym housed a very large swimming pool, gymnastics equipment, a weight room, a coaches office, and a basketball court. The Journalism wing housed the El Toro staff and the Brahma Round Up staff, as well as the NJROTC room.

Now, future generations of H.M. King High students will not have to endure the pains of crowded rooms and inadequate materials, thanks to the availability of the new facilities.

Board Makes Changes

Controversial issues brought about heated discussions during many of the school board and superintendent meetings held every first and third Tuesday of each month. Approving the decision to bring a pot dog on campus was one issue which disturbed some students and altered the use of marijuana on campus. Flip-flops and spaghetti straps were approved by the board to be worn on campus.

During the school board Candidate Forum held in March, discussion of discipline problems made and broke some of the candidates. Minnie Henderson was defeated by Elvin "Sparky" Sparks, Betty Haas retained her position on the school board and Travis Polk ran unopposed.

An issue involving the verbal and physical assault of an English teacher by a student, aroused the interest of many students, as well as their parents and faculty. The school board's decision on this case resulted in the student's expulsion.

Principals assist and administrate

A Principal's duties vary both in numbers and in types from day to day. This is due to the fact that they are responsible for all curricular activities that occur.

During our energy crisis, decisions on letting out of school, repairs, and ways to work around it were made. This was all on the shoulders of the principals. they also are responsible for checking out books, budgets, teachers, and school discipline.

Job Is Helping Students Succeed

What a headache it must have been to be a counselor. Students constantly wanting to drop a class, change 2nd period to 6th and 6th to 2nd, or change Trig. to Office Aid. Counselors were not only responsible for helping students select classes but they were also responsible for explaining and administering academic tests. At times a counselor's job must have been quite hectic, but helping students with their problems and then succeed, must have been a reward in itself.

Aid In Different Areas

Secretaries and office aides are usually very busy during the school day. They are responsible for various items. Office aides do numerous things such as tending to the front desk and answering phones. The secretaries' jobs are never ending. They assist the counselors and principals and write out permits to leave and excuse slips. The secretaries' duties also include book keeping and keeping track of finances.

Cheerleaders Motivate Crowd

This year there was a new addition to assist the cheerleaders in promoting school spirit.

The mascot Bully, was Linda Leyba in disguise. The Brahma head was constructed by Robert San Luis and Fred Fernandez.

Also, to induce spirit, the cheerleaders made black and gold signs which revealed each team members number and placed them in their yards.

This year some new additions were made to the auxiliary units. Captains now lead each corps. New props were used. The twirlers, in addition to batons, now used rifles to add to the half-time performances.

Band Wins Seventh Consecutive Sweepstakes

Hard work, many hours of practice and determination were what each member of the Mighty Brahma Band put in to win themselves sweepstakes for the seventh consecutive year. Members of the marching band practiced every day during their band period held during the heat of high noon for 1 1/2 hours. In addition to this, they were required to attend sectional rehearsals and Tuesday evening rehearsals an hour a week for about 15 weeks. These many grueling hours of practice finally paid off at U.I.L. marching contest. The band, being the biggest ever, gave their best to be the best in all of South Texas.

One of the biggest changes undertaken by the band was its change from a traditional marching band to a powerful drum corps style band. By incorporating the best of both styles, along with a dazzling display by flag girls and twirlers, the huge musical group put on sensational performances that captivated and amazed audiences.

Providing the rhythm and tempo for this great band was a spectacular drum section. This newly reorganized section participated in the Calallen drum corps contest and won the "best overall" award. They gave such an outstanding performance that the other competing corps and judges gave them a standing ovation. The drum corps, together with the rest of the band, put on a spectacular performance which received "1" division ratings and adulatory comments from all three judges at U.I.L. marching contest held in Robstown on Nov. 10, 1979.

All Performing Bands Earn Ones

Success and winning are about the only words that could describe the band's outstanding concert season. At U.I.L. concert and sightreading contest, the symphonic band, under the direction of Mr. Terry Anderson; concert band, under the direction of Mr. Rolando Molina; and the cadet band, under the direction of both directors, earned division "I" ratings on stage and in sightreading. The symphonic band received a one at the McAllen "City of Palms" band contest and won the "best in division" award; they also received a rating of excellence at the Buccaneer Days band contest in Corpus Christi. In addition to this, the stage band earned a one division rating at the Southwest Texas Jazz Festival.

Individual competition went very well for the band: the largest number of students in the history of the school to be named to the All-District band; the band that had the most number of students named to the All-Region band; 4 students named to the All-Region Orchestra; 7 students named to the All-Area band; and 4 students to make the All-State band.

At the time of this writing, it was learned that the symphonic band was named 1st in area competition for 4A State Honor Band; this also makes them one of the ten best 4A bands in the state of Texas and a candidate among nine others for the prestigious title of Class AAAA State Honor Band.

Contests, Concerts, fund raising and a Spring trip provided Mrs. Wiley's final year of directing the choir with hard work and lots of fun.

During her seventeenth and last year of directing the choir, Millicent Wiley lead the Brahma singers to place in the Texas All-State Choir.

Prior to State tryouts fourteen choir members placed at district and advanced to region where ten of the singers qualified for area auditions. At area only three members advanced securing three spots at State tryouts.

Additional competition included UIL Contest Solo and Ensemble and Fun Fest '80 at Sandy Lake.

At UIL Contest the choir recieved a first division rating in concert singing and a third division rating in sight reading.

Choir Goes On Tour

The year for the choir included several fund raising projects such as candy, shampoo, popcorn and greenery sales in preparation for their Spring trip in May 8-11. The hard work finally proved to be worth while as the choir captured their second first division rating in Concert singing during the tour.

The first few days of the Spring tour consisted of some work, but there was time for lots of fun. The choir stopped in New Braunfels and San Marcos where they rehearsed their concert numbers. While in New Braunfels, they enjoyed a day of fun at Schlitterbahn, a water slide resort there. The choir then traveled on to Dallas where they spent most of one night at Six Flags enjoying the rides and shows. In the latter part of the trip, the Brahma Choir competed at the Sandy Lake Amusement Park near Dallas at Fun Fest '80. They were the only 4A high school to receive a 1st division trophy that day.

After returning from the Spring trip, the choir held many rehearsals for the Spring Concert and baccalaureate and Commencement exercises which were still on their list of performances. Also, 17 members traveled to Austin June 1-2 for State U.I.L. Solo & Ensemble Contest. There, the singers competed in solo and madrigal groups.

Constant Practice Makes The Difference

Success and pride were their sets of goals, and the King's Ladies consumed a busy year to win it. Constant practice allowed them to perform with the confidence of doing their best to entertain. Many activities they attended included performing during halftime at the Brahma football and basketball games, and for the Texas A & I football and basketball games as well. They also performed during the pep rallies, marched in city parades, helped in school affiliated functions, and supported all other athletic events throughout the year.

The Ladies were instructed by Miss Diane Bucey, a graduate from San Marcos University. Miss Bucey taught and encouraged the ladies to be perfectionists with their routine. With their optimistic abilities, the drill team brought home a sweepstakes award from competition in Houston during March 28th thru 30th, and qualified them for state.

More Than Just A Class

Even after a few changes, the Challenge program continued to be quite successful. Mrs. Diana Perez took over as Challenge coordinator for H.M. King High School. She also taught Challenge Elective which she enjoyed very much.

Foreign Languages were added to existing Challenge programs. Challenge Spanish and French were taught by Mrs. Grace Salazar and Mrs. Lydia Morales respectively.

Everyone can plainly see the Challenge is more than just a class. Students learn by doing, reading, and watching each other. They put their ideas to work by developing projects, demonstrations, and different types of research to obtain their goals. Field trips, speakers, projects, demonstrations, and other activities benefit the program.

Since it began three years ago, the Challenge program has gone through a lot of changes and will continue to do so until it is well established.

Grammar and literature were the two basic topics covered in English courses during the year. In the grammar portion, punctuation, sentence structure, vocabulary, and composition were emphasized. In the literature section, the study of works of famous authors was taught. Each individual had the opportunities to express and exchange their ideas and opinions. Whether correcting grammatical errors, reading a 500 page book in one day, or struggling at the last minute to start on that research paper, the students discovered that this course was worth their while.

El Toro Innovates Yearbook

The bigger and better El Toro was successfully published by the hard working yearbook staff. The book, featuring a cover designed by Roberto San Luis and painted by Fred Fernandez and division page photography by Ernie Moralez, was completely revised from the past yearbooks of H.M. King. The contemporary style was executed by a fine staff consisting of ten section and assistant editors. Each member of the staff was required to do a page or more in the book. They had to design their page around a rigid style, look through proof books to pick out pictures, assign pictures, crop the pictures, write captions for them, write body copy and headlines. It was difficult keeping the deadlines (most were missed).

The staff ran into some problems financially due to rising costs of publishing and photo materials. Therefore, the staff undertook a campaign to raise money. They held a bake sale, a photo booth at the Spring Carnival, a buy-a-line sale and a jewelry sale. It was hard work, but so was everything else about yearbooking.

If one looked in on the Brahma Round-Up staff room on any other Thursday, one would find the staff busily working on the next day's edition. The staff would sometimes work into the wee hours of the night, but they always managed to put a paper out. The school paper has continued their good reporting tradition this year through the leadership of editor Joe Goode. The Brahma Round-Up won an Award of Achievement at the Interscholastic League Press Conference in Austin.

Speech and Drama Build Confidence

Learning and fun are readily combined in the Speech and Drama classes. During the Speech classes the students learn how to write and present oratory and extemporaneous speeches. The better speeches are used in competition by the students. Some of the local tournaments include McAllen, Sinton and Tuloso Midway.

The Drama classes work mainly on interpretation of speeches, mimes and duets. The better acts as in the speech classes are also allowed to join the Forensic League at the tournaments. In addition, they learn the history of drama and the basic aspects of stage production. Many students agree that Miss Castaneda provides an excellent learning atmosphere.

The purpose of a foreign language class was to teach through action; to acknowledge students of the culture and background of a race by learning the language.

This year Spanish students placed third in Sweepstakes at the National Spanish Examination held at A&I in March.

Spanish students also won top awards at the National Literary Competition at A&I in May. Placing first in the poetry competition was Paul Palmer, first in short story composition, Stephanie Wison, and third in poetry, Gina Pogue.

History Curriculum

Is Enhanced By Mock Election

The purpose of Social Studies was to encourage the students to learn the past and present historical events. It was important to acknowledge the roles of the government and become socially, politically, and economically competent individuals in society. Mr. Jaimes commented, "I believe very honestly that we have a real fine school. We have overall, a good student body. It will certainly be my reward in the future to see many of our fine young men and women doing well for themselves. Hopefully they will be able to look back and feel that I contributed to their success in some small way."

Varieties of Math are Available

H.M. King was fortunate to have such a wide variety of math courses this past year. The courses ranged from Fundamentals of Math to Calculus. The students were also fortunate to have a variety of math teachers who ranged from stand up comedians to drill sergeants. No matter what personalities they possessed each had his own effective way of teaching.

Math classes will long be remembered for those trying and triumphant times. Sometimes, the answers just wouldn't work out; then after much effort, it all started to fit right into place.

For some students, math was a "foreign language"; for others, it was a tempting puzzle needing to be worked out. No matter which way we look at it, math will be necessary throughout our entire lives. So hail to the math teachers for all their efforts in teaching us.

Science is Study of the Unknown

Two years of science were required for students to graduate from H.M. King. Many different courses were offered to satisfy the needs of the science students. These courses included: Physical Science, Biology I&II, Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Science.

Science was not only memorizing chemical symbols and definitions, but it was also an adventure into the unknown. Labs, lectures, and films were the basis of most "adventures." They widened our understanding of science and gave us a firm background for further study in the field of science.

Library Serves Students

To meet with friends in the morning, to study for the dreaded exam, to look for general information or maybe just to read an enjoyable book, was the all familiar routine in the King High library. Sources of over 24,000 books, encyclopedias, atlases, dictionaries, and other important references were used. Periodicals and newspapers added a bit of up-to-date knowledge, as well as entertainment. Librarians and assistants were always on hand to help students find what they needed, or to shelve and check magazines and books for them.

The instructors broadened the students' perceptions of the world of art. Students had a chance to express themselves and to show their creativity through art. From Basic Art to Crafts, each area had something new and interesting to offer. Sketching, pottery, painting and sculpture were all a part of the learning experience.

NJROTC Unit Drills Last Year

As the school said hello to the eighty decade, it said good-bye to military instruction at the school.

After 12 years of service to the school, the NJROTC program was discontinued due to the lack of enrollment.

Students enrolled in the class studied many subjects. There was drilling twice a week and inspection every Thursday. They took fieldtrips to Harlingen, Brownsville, and Houston to learn more about their studies and to have a change of pace.

NJROTC students were generous in performing many services for the school. Among these services were the daily raising and retreating of flags, the forming of the rifle line at homecoming, and the presenting of the flag at all home football games.

Course Requires Physical Fitness

Physical Education at King High in the past year of 1979-80 has included a wide variety of sports and preparatory exercises so that students may achieve physical fitness.

Some of the sports that were included in this years curriculum were volleyball, swimming, tennis, basketball, archery, baseball, track events, roller skating, gymnastics and football. Preparatory exercises ranged from sit-ups and push-ups to running laps and stretching.

Health: an Important Course

In this required course, students are taught about the various health hazards that may endanger their lives.

The students learn how communicable diseases are prevented and cured. The chronic and functional conditions of the body, family life, mental health, crime prevention and drug education are some of the other things covered during the first quarter.

Cancer, cardiovascular diseases, physical fitness, environmental and community health, safe living, and consumer health are some of the topics discussed during the second quarter.

Teachers of this course hope that by acquainting students with various aspects of health, they will lead better, more productive lives.

"Boy, I can't wait to take Driver's Ed!" exclaimed a student at King High. This anticipation was commonly found in most students signed up for this elective course. But what they found may have been something different than what they expected.

The Driver's Ed course consists of three basic stages of learning how to drive properly. Classwork, simulation, and actual driving.

All students spend a certain amount of time in the class room where they are taught how to read maps, the different instruments in the car and what to do in emergency situations.

In simulation, students get driving experience without actually driving a real car. Students watch a film on driving and are graded on how well they respond.

Most students look forward to actually getting behind the wheel. But before Mrs. Lewis or Mrs. Kelly will let one drive in town, one must have his learner's permit.

On the whole, most students seemed to enjoy the course very much.

Business Classes Provide Many Skills

Typing, shorthand, accounting, record keeping, and business law were just a few of the business courses available to students last year. Many students enrolled in these courses to begin learning new skills. Some students, however, enrolled in advanced classes to continue what they had learned in previous years at KHS.

Learning Beauty At KHS

During the school year, cosmetology students learned new techniques for hairstyles, nail manicures, and make-up applications. The students also attended the All Texas Beauty Show at the Dallas Fairmont on February 8-12. The trip was like a workshop for them; they saw new trends in hairstyles which they used for competition. As a money raising project for the trip they sold black and gold Senior T-shirts which were imprinted with every KHS senior's name.

Homemaking was a class which dealt with handling the everyday situations of home life. Students were encouraged to learn various skills such as cooking, sewing, and child care. These skills were prerequisite material for entering the annual Kleberg County Fair. Homemaking also helped in establishing an H.M. King tradition by holding their first mock-wedding. This simulation wedding ceremony was officiated on St. Valentine's Day. Three groups got the chance to briefly experience matrimonial bliss. The instructors who supervised the Homemaking classes were Mrs. Barbara Nix, Mrs. Consuelo DeLaRosa, and Mrs. Mary Gutierrez.

Electrical trades was a course that prepared its students for future job occupations that dealt in the field of electricity. The course was taught by Robert Hadley. The instructor taught the use of conductor and over-current protective devices, the theory of electricity, the National Electric Code, and single phase service entrances. The result of all this knowledge was put to the test when students entered district and state contests.

Drafting Students Place First In District

Alfonso Ramos was the instructor of the drafting class. The class's purpose was to teach students the basic skills of drafting and mechanical drawing. Furthermore, by the use of oral, written, and graphic skills, the student gained valuable experiences to prepare him for future, drafting-related occupations.

Class emphasis was placed on the importance of creativity and imagination. Students attended the State Fair in Waco and received state-wide recognition for their projects.

Cabinet Making Highlights Woods Class

Efrain Chapa, Alfonso Ramos and Ben ortez combined their skills to teach students the art of woodworks. Some of the equipment used in the woods shop consisted of electrical drills, saws, sanders and routers. With the equipment, students produced such projects as desks, china cabinets, lamps, picture frames, and gun cabinets.

Metal Trades Construct First "B"

Elbert Franklin was the instructor of the Metal Trades class throughout the year of 1979-1980. Of the various skills taught, welding, the use of lathes, and electrical equipment were heavily emphasized. Some students did so well that they went to competition where they did honor to H.M. King High.

Vocational Carpentry Offers Skills

"Today, it is advisable that each student graduate from high school with a marketable skill," stated Vocational Building Trades I and II instructor, Charles Underbrink. As its project this year, Building Trades completed the new "Vocational Building," including three labs, three classrooms and a various assortment of storage areas and cabinets.

Students' Hard Work Pays Off

Auto Paint & Body had a good year in competition. They won district, and four out of thirteen took 2nd. Joe Garza, a second year student, was awarded 1st place in state, Mark Simons won for select-ed job.

Other outstanding students were Gilbert Arguijo and Balde Ramirez. All these Students prepared for competition by working during their 3 hour periods, painting and renovating cars and appliances and restoring them to prestine condi-tion.

Trouble-shooting, repairs, installing used and new units estimating installation and repair costs, and all the fundamentals of refrigeration and air-conditioning were emphasized to the students taking the three hour course.

With the help from their instructor, Mr. Hardy Aldridge, three students competed at the District II meet in Brownsville and placed 3rd.

Auto Mechanics had a fairly competitive year, when placing first at District competition. In their three hour class, the Auto Mechanic students learned car and engine repair. This technical skill prepared them for a hopefully prosperous career in their future after high school.

VOE Prepares Students

Mrs. Barbara Kelley and Mrs. Barbara Gill were the instructors of Vocational Office Education (VOE). The VOE students comprise its club, Office Education Association (OEA). The students were instructed in filing, writing various forms of business correspondence, how to use office machines, and how to type more accurately and faster.

DECA'S Work

The Distributive Education Club of America's (DECA) main goal was to teach and prepare its students for employment and advancement in the business world. The main focal point of the course was to prepare its students for dealing with business's most important element, the customers. Actual working experience was acquired in the D.E. store. Salesmanship was also taught. Mrs. Glenda Brodnax was the DECA teacher.

Blood Seekers Find Volunteers

The Texas Association of Health Occupations for Students (TAHOS) held their bi-annual blood drive this year again. Students went from door to door seeking blood donors, students as well as faculty. The blood drive was completely successful. The students of Health Occupations were taught correct procedures to follow and use in health related fields, thus preparing them for future careers.

Their Assignment Is To Serve

Excitement was having to pick up trash after students, and cooking endless meals each day for a two hour lunch period. At least, that was what the custodians and the cafeteria workers were just recognized for.

Maintaining the purity of the school itself was a tough job for the janitors. They were especially kept busy by all the vandalism that occurred during the school year.

The cafeteria workers, on the other hand, were extremely engaged preparing and serving the meals for approximately two thousand occupants of this campus.

Hard workers as they were, the custodians and the cafeteria workers were important people who attended school to serve King High. They had their own school assignment just like the students, and completed a job well done.

Turning To...

The 80's

Affection Shown In Many Ways

The fragrance of carnations, roses and mixed bouquets was released into the halls of H.M. King. What was the occasion? It was Valentine's day, February 14, 1980. The flowers along with the sweet taste of candy and the bright colors of cards were used to show affection. Students as well as teachers were filled with anticipation as they waited for a gift from a loved one, but sometimes all they got was disappointment. Others received an unexpected present from someone who they didn't even know cared.

Valentine's was a day full of emotion, of love and friendship brought about by simple little gifts-such as a caring smile.

Annual Dance Changes Style

"Rockin' with the 80's" was this year's FHA Sweetheart dance theme. In conjunction with the high popularity of disco, the 1980 Future Homemakers of America changed the Sweetheart Ball into a Sweetheart Disco Dance. This was the first year the club had ever sponsored a dance of the sort. With disc jockey Mike Chavez playing the music, members and other guests enjoyed dancing the night away. Decorations of brightly colored balloons and streamers helped enhance the atmosphere that honored Roger Reyna as the 1980 Sweetheart. Pictures were taken of the couples by a local photography studio.

The disco dance was a success and may have determined the type of future Sweetheart dances; but who knows?

Assemblies Offer Entertainment And Knowledge

Student assemblies ranged from the traditional pep rally to the bazaar feats performed at the talent show and contest.

One assembly that broke from the norm was the Dance-A-Thon held in the cafeteria. Students paid to participate as well as watch the latest dance steps. All proceeds went to the "Care For Kingsville" campaign, a project to raise funds for the new Kleberg County Hospital.

The Forensic and Drama department came through with two plays during the course of the year. The first a money raiser entitled "Smart Assets," followed later in the season by their One Act Play production entitled "Shadow Box."

During advisory periods at various points during the year, the student cabinet sponsored educational assemblies on alcohol awareness and drug abuse, and a week of assemblies on energy awareness and conservation.

Whether students were the type to attend assemblies as a relief from the class routine or to learn something new, the assembly schedule accomidated both.

The Youth Livestock Show has become a yearly event for area 4-H and FFA'ers.

Members raised or worked on their projects the entire school year, and when the end of march rolled around, the Show Barn was full of animals and homemaking items. Pigs, chickens, cattle, and rabbits were the types of livestock exhibited, along with baked goods, preserved foods, and cloth articles of a creative nature.

A lot of hard work and effort went into the 1980 livestock show. Feeding early every morning despite weather conditions, and long hours of work were several obstacles incurred in raising an animal project.

Doing and redoing an embroidery stitch or repeating a recipe 6 or 7 times wasn't uncommon, neither was failure.

It wasn't money exhibitors thought about during the tearful partings with their animals after the sale, but rather how much they had learned through their projects.

Anticipation was in the air as the 1st Olympic Games opened the Spring Carnival. Competition was between the classes with Joe Goode as games master. Events ranged from an egg toss, to a tricycle race, to a whistling cracker-eating contest.

All it took was a few tickets to warrant someone's arrest for the jail sponsored by the Freshman class. There were chances to win cakes, paddles, and other prizes at such booths as the frisbee throw, the cookie throw, the cake-walk and many others.

The carnival was followed-up by a Spring Dance in the cafeteria. There, the long awaited results of the Miss KHS voting were announced. Shenae Lewis was crowned Miss KHS, and Dana Wilson was declared first runner-up.

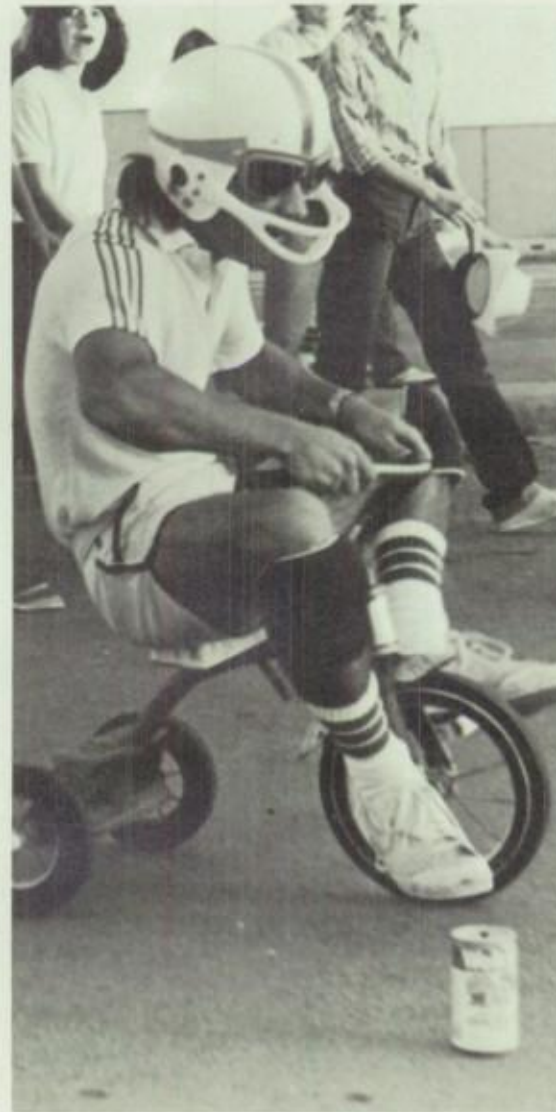

Lack of booth participation made the carnival one of the smallest Spring Carnival's ever.

Recognizing Excellence

Faculty members as well as students were honored at the annual achievement awards assembly. Mr. Sorensen was caught by surprise when President Brad Malone presented him a gavel for his help and support in Student Cabinet throughout the year. A raving applause was given for Mr. Anderson as he received the very first Teacher of the Year Award. Teachers eligible for receiving this award were those honored as Teacher of the Month. The student body then voted on these teachers determining the Teacher of the Year. This was a new event this year which acknowledged excellence in teaching.

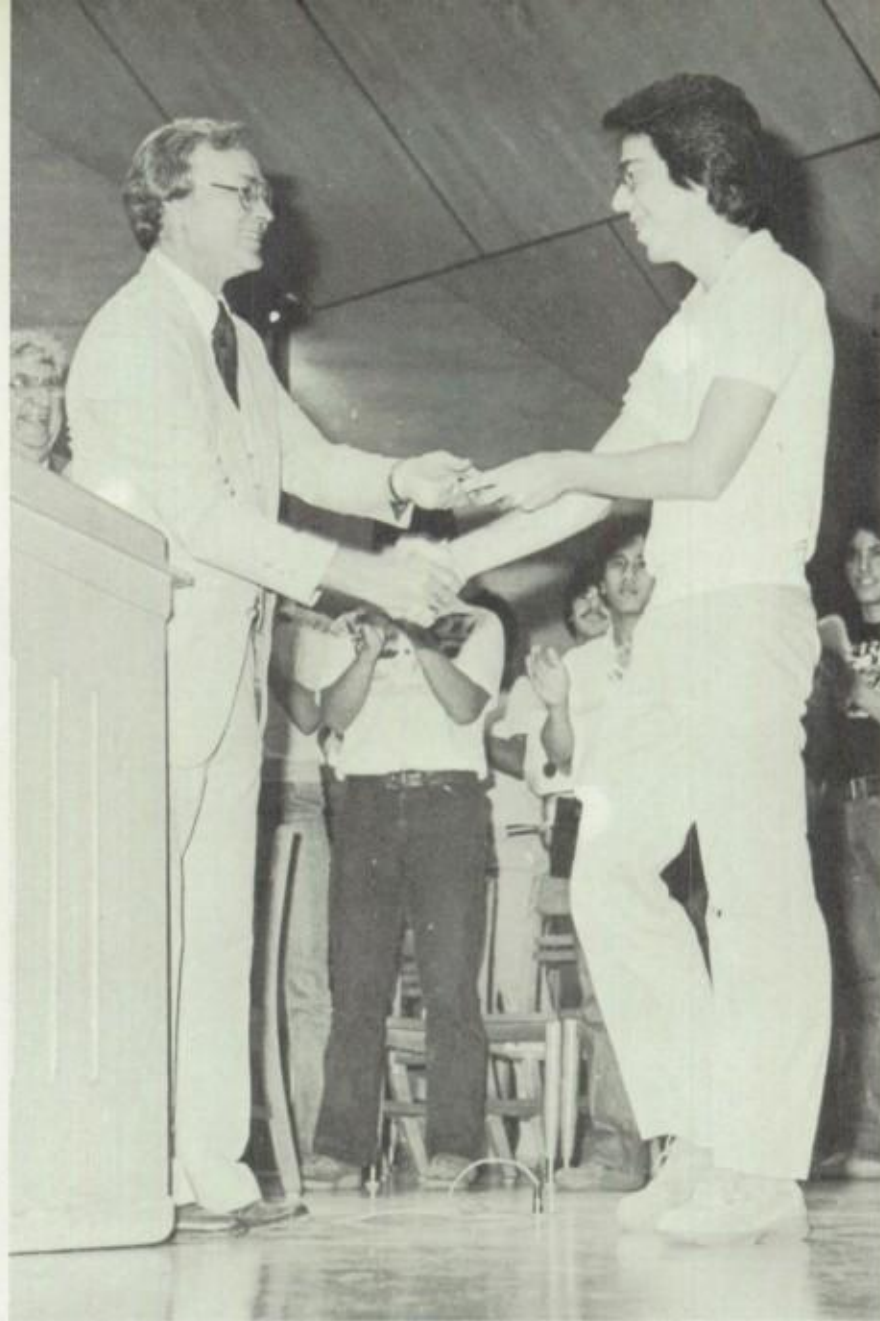

The top five graduating seniors were announced (alphabetically) as Scott Chisholm, Peter Hernandez, Cindy Hoover, Lori Nash and John Wilson. As the suspense grew, Mr. Sorensen released the tension, bringing the audience to their feet, when he announced Peter Hernandez as Valedictorian and Lori Nash as Salutatorian.

More than sixty students were honored with achievement awards and scholarships donated by clubs, organizations and colleges, marking a successful year for the graduating seniors.

Planning Ahead

Some of the hardest decisions faced by high school students were those concerning college. The sixth annual college night was held January 29, 1980. Students met in the auditorium for a brief orientation and were then allowed to visit three colleges during different time periods. Over sixty representatives from various colleges throughout and around Texas participated in college night. These recruits helped answer questions concerning entrance tests, tuition costs, scholarships, and gave general information about their schools.

Selecting a college has always been difficult, and an event like college night was most beneficial for college-bound students.

Banquets Fill The Month Of May

Looking at the school calendar for May, one discovered that two to three nights a week were scheduled for different organization's banquets.

These banquets were for honoring various club members and a general recap of the year. Some organizations accomplished this formally while others not so formally.

Members of the drill team and cheerleading squads held their banquets together in the school cafeteria.

For the more athletic members of the student body, a spring athletic banquet was held at J.K. Northway Exposition Center.

French Club hosted their banquet at the Bonanza.

Student Cabinet members were surprised to find their newly elected president heavily surrounded by body guards when he entered El Jardin's for their banquet. The president elect's body guards walked beside the flag draped limosine all the way to the restaurant.

Forensic club members opted for a less formal gathering in club president Joe Goode's back yard.

For some, the Prom was a chance to go out on their first real date with that someone special they had kept their eyes on for months. The feeling of nervousness, getting ready and making sure they looked all right, making certain that his boutonniere and her corsage has been picked up, added to all the excitement and thrills. For others, it was just another night to really party. For the seniors, it was a moment to celebrate their last formal party together.

"Sail On" was chosen as the theme for the April 26th Junior-Senior Prom. The Prom was held at the Texas A & I ballroom from 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m. The talented group "Klick" from Austin, Texas performed for the occasion. A new tradition of having Senior Favorites was introduced. The winners of the Senior Favorites were announced that evening. Six couples who received the most nominations represented the different titles.

As the party came to an end, some people began to develop a new relationship with their date. A satisfied look and an impression of a fun night appeared on several faces. Yes, it was quite a night.

Approximately fifty King High students, typewriters, slide rules, scientific equations and extemp files were the elements used to capture the 1980 U.I.L. 27AAAA District Literary title.

On the morning of April 4, the H.M. King High literary team traveled to Corpus Christi to compete at U.I.L. District. That evening they returned to Kingsville with fifteen students placing first, second or third and the Literary District trophy.

The team captured 189 points with ease. Robstown was King's closest competitor with 119 points.

"Good Luck And Goodbye; See You At The Top"

It happened every year at approximately the same time and place, but graduation was totally different to the senior graduates for they were not the audience, but the honorees.

The 1980 graduates were honored at the Gil Steinke Physical Education Center May 29th at 8:00 p.m. It was the highlight of a week of preparation. Starting from Thursday morning at Baccalaureate practice, the reality of graduation came into sight. It continued through the actual Baccalaureate Service that Sunday night and then to practice for the Commencement Exercises. Then, that night, it happened.

The notes of "Pomp and Circumstance" echoed through the hall where anxious seniors adjusted everything from their hair to their caps. As they paraded before an audience that filled the gym, everything they were shown in practice was carried out.

They went through the invocation of the platform guests, the graduates were addressed by the salutatorian, Lori Michelle Nash, and the valedictorian, Peter G. Hernandez, Jr. The seniors were then certified as graduates by Mr. Sorensen. Afterwards, the moment the seniors were waiting for arrived. But for some, the moment wasn't actually a moment but about forty-five minutes. All was satisfied though, as shown through the beaming smiles of the ex-high schoolers. Then, as the band played "Auld Lang Syne", the smiles disappeared while reminiscences of the four years recurred in everyone's mind. Temporarily forgotten were the responsibilities of college as they attended the many parties honoring the occasion.

Gone But Not Forgotten

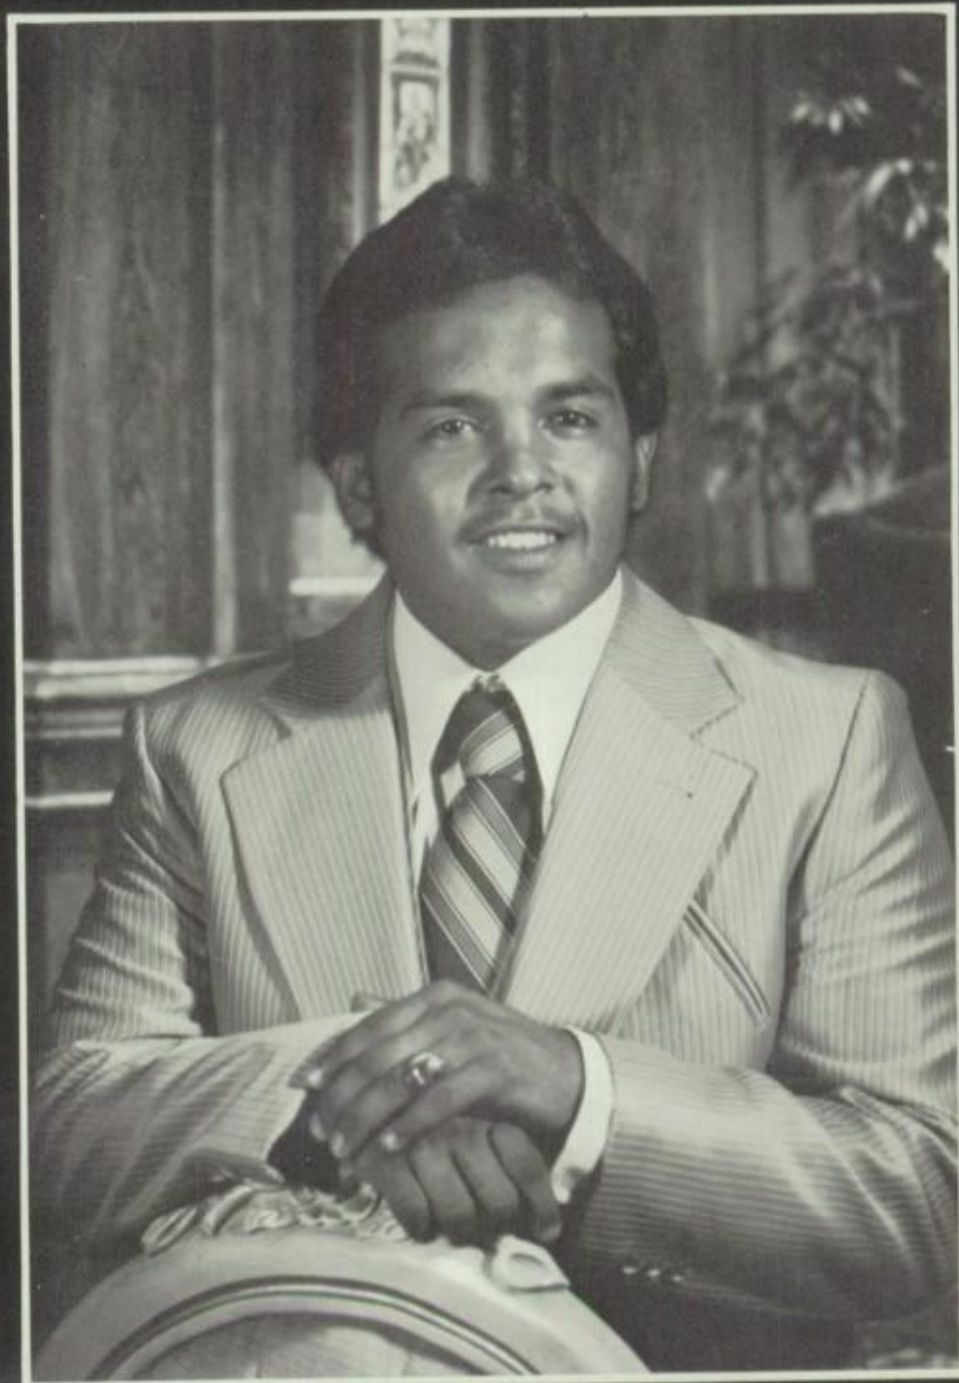

We live for memories,
Moments we hope will not be lost,
For life is nothing but a memory that never fades away.

Roel Salgado-a life gone but not forgotten.

by RSL

Darkness subsides as dawn nears, the sun begins to lift himself from seclusion displaying his roundness and color.
As morning closes in, higher up he goes to meet a new adventure. Beaming his light to wake with the whole world.
Unexpectedly, closer and closer,
comes a group of black and gray
clouds, surrounding and covering him.
The sky becomes black and rain begins to fall. The world is flooded with tears; the day is sadden. Now, he is gone.
His smile and warmth will be missed,
but he will never be forgotten.

Deborah,

Well the year went by pretty fast, huh? Well it was good while it lasted. You a very nice, sweet, and crazy person. Stay that way cuz you a real weirdo that way. Cut it? Okay!! Good luck with Derek and with everything else. Good luck in the future.

Hi ya Kio,

How shall ya be doin'? Me, I'm alright (as if you really care).
Are you wonderin' why I chose this spot to write. It's because Regina's right there. She's my good friend. Right?! Right. Well have fun this year. I know its hard with all their stupid new rules, but you can do it.

Have fun to the maxime degree,

Tracy
